

SUMEET LAHANE

Co-Founder and CEO

REnergy Dynamics Infraworks Pvt Ltd

Maj Sumeet Lahane is the Co-Founder and CEO of REnergy Dynamics Infraworks, a results-driven and disciplined leader with a unique blend of military leadership, corporate execution expertise and entrepreneurial vision. An Indian Army veteran and President's Gold Medalist from the Indian Military Academy, he brings with him 18 years of rigorous leadership experience spanning defence, renewable energy and large-scale infrastructure projects.

Following a distinguished 14-year career as a Major in the Indian Army's combat arm, Sumeet transitioned into the renewable energy sector where he played a pivotal role in scaling EPC and O&M operations in India's emerging BioCNG industry. As former Chief Operations Officer at GPS Renewables, he successfully led the expansion from a single project to over 20 projects across the country, building high-performance teams, instituting robust project control frameworks and driving significant revenue growth. His leadership contributed to the company scaling upto a 1000 Cr+ revenue growth in three financial years.

Currently, as Co-Founder of REnergy Dynamics Infraworks, Sumeet is channelling his leadership into executing large-scale EPC projects across sectors including civil infrastructure, waste-to-energy, warehousing, logistics parks and industrial real estate. His execution philosophy is rooted in meticulous planning, systems thinking, financial discipline and frontline leadership - ensuring projects are delivered with speed, quality and financial prudence.

Beyond his operational expertise, Sumeet is deeply involved in process institutionalization, talent development and building organizational capability for sustainable growth. His experience spans project governance, team building, cost optimization and cross-functional alignment, making him a highly credible and hands-on leader in the infrastructure EPC sector.
